Tips for Parents

- Most children need to be offered (and see their parents eating) a new food over and over again (up to a dozen times) before it becomes familiar.
- New foods are best served first, while children are still hungry.
- Encourage "a taste" and let your child decide if they want more.
- Don't reward or punish based on what kids eat or don't eat.
- A reasonable portion for most kids is about the size of their own fist.
- Strive for 5 fist-sized portions a day—the more colorful the better!
- See choosemyplate.gov for more ideas on feeding preschoolers.

Eat a Rainbow Ideas

Breakfast

- Add raisins, bananas, or berries to your cereal.
- Easy smoothie: mix 100% fruit juice, sliced banana, and some berries.
- Grab a glass of 100% fruit juice.

Snacks

- Dip veggies in ranch dressing, or fruit chunks into yogurt.
- Make freezer pops using 100% fruit juice.
- Make fruit kabobs out of pineapple, grapes, strawberries, and melon.
- Keep apples, pears, bunch of grapes, or box of raisins ready to go.

Lunch & Dinner

- Green salads (with tomatoes, strawberries, or orange slices) & veggie soups are great.
- Add lettuce, tomatoes, peppers, & cucumbers to your sandwich or wrap.
- Add peppers, broccoli, & carrots to pasta or potato salad.
- Add apples, pineapple, raisins, or celery to chicken or tuna salad.

Dessert

- Top angel food cake with fresh berries.
- Cut up fruit such as melon, grapes, and citrus for a tasty fruit salad.
- Flip the Dish: top berries with a scoop of yogurt or ice cream.
